CHAPTER 6 – EMPLOYEE & MANAGER PERFORMANCE, EVALUATION

6.1 EMPLOYEE AND MANAGER EVALUATION PROCEDURES

It is the policy of the Hoopa Valley Tribe that employees and managers be provided constructive and objective feedback regularly in order to maximize their contributions to the organizations. The employee and manager evaluation performance appraisal serves purposes. The most important aspects are communication between the supervisor and employee regarding any changes in the employee's job, areas of performance strength and weakness, and areas of specific training need. It is the responsibility of the program manager to make reasonable efforts to conduct employee evaluations at least once a year. Evaluations conducted under this policy include, but are not limited to, introductory, employee and manager reviews.

6.1.1 INTRODUCTORY EVALUATIONS

Written evaluations are made on introductory employee performance one month prior to completion of the introductory period. The Personnel Department shall send reminders to managers when the introductory performance reviews are due. However, failure to send the reminder does not excuse the manager from the responsibility to conduct the evaluation.

Evaluation of an employee's performance during the introductory period is a continuing process. However, one month prior to completion of the introductory period, the employee's manager will provide a detailed assessment in writing of the employee's performance with a recommendation to take one of the following actions:

- Affirm that the services of the employee have been found to be satisfactory and certifies that the employee be given a regular appointment to the position.
- Recommend that the employee's services be terminated.
- Recommend that the introductory period be extended.

6.1.2 EXTENSION OF INTRODUCTORY PERIOD

A program manager, may with the concurrence of the Personnel Director, extend an employee's introductory period for a specific time not to exceed an additional 90 days. The employee shall be notified of the reason for the extension, and a further report and decision shall be required at the end of this additional period.

6.1.3 TERMINATION DURING INTRODUCTORY PERIOD

The employment of introductory employees is at the will of the employer and may be terminated at any time. The reason or reasons for the termination of the introductory employee will be documented in the employee's personnel file for records purposes.

6.2 MANAGEMENT EVALUATIONS

Managers are hired based upon their expertise and ability to manage in the discipline for which they were hired. The premise upon which management evaluations will be based is that managers are expected to be among the most knowledgeable in developing decisions and for addressing problem areas within their program.

Program managers will be evaluated at least annually, or as otherwise needed, by the Tribal Chairman or his/her authorized representative using the manager evaluation forms provided by the Personnel Department. Performance deficiencies will be identified during the evaluation or under a separate document and provided to the manager. Annual manager evaluations will be consistent within the provision of the Tribal Audit and Report Policy. Managers will be provided a copy of the completed evaluation form and a copy will be placed in the manager's personnel file. A manager may submit a written response to the evaluation which will be placed in the manager's personnel file.

Managers will be evaluated on the following criteria:

- Goals and objectives – Progress/achievements;
- Management of finances and Tribal assets;
- Efforts/ability to identify and solve problems;
- Administrative functions – personnel/budget management, application/waiver of policies and procedures; and
- Identification of areas needing improvement.
- Other written criteria that are related to the manager's duties.

Poor and/or unsatisfactory duties by managers at any time during their employment may result in disciplinary action or termination.

6.3 EMPLOYEE EVALUATIONS

Regular employee evaluations will be conducted annually, or as otherwise needed, by the program manager or his/her authorized representative using the employee evaluation forms provided by the personnel department. Performance deficiencies will be identified during the evaluation or under a separate document and provided to the employee. Following review, the form shall be forwarded to the employee's personnel file. Employees disagreeing with a performance evaluation shall sign the report to acknowledge they have read it. The employee may outline in writing their basis for disagreement to be included with the evaluation.

CHAPTER 7 – CHANGES IN EMPLOYMENT STATUS

There are various factors that can affect an employee's or manager's status of employment within the tribe. These can include actions intended to benefit an employee or manager following superior work performance, those that are mutually agreed to by the employee or manager and Tribe, as well as those actions resulting from the need to take corrective actions resulting from less than satisfactory work performance. Any employee or manager who does not agree with actions taken to change his or her employment status with the tribe may appeal such actions through the appropriate employee or manager procedures contained in this policy. Examples in employment status include:

7.1 PROMOTION

Vacancies shall be filled by promotion whenever practical and in the best interest of the Hoopa Valley Tribe. The employee will be paid at the usual higher rate of the higher-level position. If the employee receives a pay increase for the temporary promotion, the employee's pay will revert to his/her previous pay when the temporary promotion is over.

7.1.2 RETROACTIVE PROMOTIONS & PAY INCREASES

The salary paid to a transferred or reassigned employee shall be at the rate normally paid for the position by the department or entity.

7.7 DISMISSAL

An employee may be dismissed at any time when there is a reasonable basis for such termination. Examples of such reasonable basis are, but are not limited to, the employee's inappropriate behavior at work, failure to perform the required duties of the job, lack of funding for the position, restructuring of a department, or any reasonable business judgment or economic reason in making the decision to terminate the employee. When an employee is subject to dismissal for employee-based conduct, the program manager shall have followed the procedures specified in section 8 of these policies. Employees may be immediately terminated without notice when it is determined by the program manager's reasonable judgment that the employee's specific behavior is seriously prejudicial to the best interests of the Tribe. For the purposes of this section an employee shall also include the program managers. Program managers shall consult with the Office of Tribal Attorney prior to any employee termination. - c) A position is classified after a careful study of the duties and responsibilities assigned to the position. This process requires a systematic study of the organizational structures, position descriptions, an interview of the supervisor and the employee, and other techniques as needed to gather the necessary information about the position or positions concerned.
